Local Youngsters To Support Hallo- we'en "Shell Out"

Idea Sponsored by Kinamen;
J. M. Allan Local Distributing
Agent

A novel idea has been injected into the Halloween celebrations this year, and that is all local youngsters gain supplies of much needed milk instead of collecting fruit and candy for themselves.

The Kinamen club, of Lethbridge, has appointed Mr. J. M. Allan, of Coleman Cash Grocery, their Coleman agent to distribute cards. Each card is perforated into 100 sections, each section representing one cent. The householder is asked to buy a portion of a card or one or more cards depending on how many children usually call at their home on Halloween.

The school teachers are expected to co-operate in the scheme by having concerts at the school on the evening of Oct. 30. The children will first go from door to door to collect these tickets and then go back to school where they will enjoy their concert. Cost of the fruit and candies distributed at these respective school concerts is left to the discretion of those supervising the scheme locally.

At the present time Mr. Allan is securing the co-operation of the teachers. He has a number of handbills for circulation which will explain to the public the purpose of the scheme, shortly after distribution of the handbills school children may be expected to call at your door asking you to buy a card to use Halloween night instead of distributing the customary fruit and candy.

Harold Maslen Given Town Garbage Contract

Joe DeKlyn Unable to Secure
Release From Mine; Maslen
to Start Nov. 1

Mayor Antrobus announced Tuesday morning that the council had awarded the garbage contract to Harold Maslen, duties to commence November 1.

Joe DeKlyn, who had been promised the contract providing he could secure his release from the mines from the Selective Service Office, informed the Mayor on Tuesday afternoon that he had definitely been refused his release and therefore unable to accept the garbage contract.

At the present time Mr. Charles Makin and Mr. Destobel will continue to haul garbage till the end of this month. Mr. Makin, who is quitting the job, has not made plans for the future and stated he would very likely remain in Coleman for the present.

Pallbearers included R. Morris, D. Robert, A. McCulloch, W. Antle, E. Gudmunson and W. S. Parish.

McLeod Brothers Meet in England; Three Years Apart

A joyous reunion occurred in England recently when P/O Fraser McLeod met up with the "kid brother", F/O Roy McLeod, after an interval of three years. Both boys had trained in eastern Canada before going overseas but the opportunity never afforded itself to meet each other.

A year ago Roy was sent overseas and so far has made approximately thirty operational flights over Europe. His pilot has won the D.F.C. and also the Belgium Cross. As far as is known he has been working in a Lancaster bomber. At the present time he is on instruction duty.

Fraser landed overseas in September and lost no time in meeting Roy. He will now undergo some advanced training before being sent over Europe.

Jury Finds "Accidental Death" With No Blame Attached To Anyone In Mine Accident

Union Withdraws Brief;
Evidence Revealed Pillar, Prior to Accident was Well Timbered

The inquest enquiring into the deaths of Robert Wilson and Fred Slugg in McGillivray Creek mine accident on Monday, Oct. 18, was held on Friday evening at 7:30 with Coroner D. McPherson presiding, the jury comprising Harold Houghton, foreman; L. S. Richards, J. Lipovsky, R. R. Pattinson, O. Fiedler and E. Salvador.

Coroner McPherson gave a brief resume of what had transpired in releasing the bodies for burial. Mack Stigler had identified the body of Fred Slugg and Havelock Hulbert that of Robert Wilson.

The coroner announced that Mr. Evan Morgan was present to represent the Dept. of Lands and mines; Mr. Leslie McDonald represented McGillivray Creek Coal and Coke Co. Ltd., and T. A. McCloy represented the families and the U.M.W.A.

A. E. Graham, McGillivray Creek mine surveyor, submitted blueprint copies of the scene of the accident after the bodies had been recovered.

He answered several questions asked by Mr. Morgan and the jury. Mr. McCloy endeavored to ask a question but was ruled out of order by the coroner. A few minutes later he again endeavored to ask a question and the coroner again refused adding that the company and the union representatives had only listening briefs and that questions could only be asked by them upon the discretion of the coroner.

Harry Woltons, driver boss of No. 1 level, stated he was only aware an accident had taken place when he visited 168 pillar. He saw no lights and no men. Went for help and then phoned the pit boss Havelock Hulbert. Witness further added that he saw only rock, mine clothes and water cans at the scene of the accident and heard some falling rock. He had heard no unusual sounds and had last seen the two miners lights at 1:35 p.m.

After the witness had answered questions from Mr. Morgan and jury the coroner asked the union representative if he wished to question witness. The latter asked why he should be allowed to question this witness and not the first. When called to order by the coroner he stated he was withdrawing the union brief from this inquest, and withdrew from the chambers.

Mike Kubica, a miner who worked in an adjoining pillar to the deceased miners. He stated he had heard a big rock fall or slide. As it was almost quitting time he had not investigated but went down the entry where he had told the driver boss. Upon the driver boss' return he, along with other miners, went back to the scene of the accident. He did not know where the deceased miners had been working. He later found their clothes. He had looked for the missing men and had tried to get into the place but had been unable to do so.

Robert Campbell, late Robert Wilson's regular partner. He had not been at work the day of the accident. Had worked on Saturday, 168 pillar was his regular working place and he and Mr. Wilson had been working there about a year and a half. Condition of the place on Saturday had appeared to be alright and was well timbered. There was no shortage of timber. The place was a little ragged but safe. The battery had been built of heavy timber.

Mike Ryzmar, timber packer. He stated deceased miners had never been short of timber and always had a plentiful supply. Following the accident surplus timber had been found.

Edgar Allen, Fireboss of the shift at time of the accident. He had inspected 168 pillar at 12:45 and thought accident had occurred at approximately 2:15 p.m. He first learned of the accident at five minutes to three at the lamp house and had been told that two men were trapped at 168 and immediately went back into the mine. When he reached the scene he saw much rock and also that the timbers had been swept out. He, with other officials, had sized up the situation. Everything was quiet. He then proceeded to the point where he had last seen the men working. He was chased back as the place again started to work. He however, reached the places where Wilson and Slugg were eventually found. At 12:45 he had found the place in good condition with no sign of danger. The miners had just finished putting up some timber. He stated the deceased workers had been safe workers.

Archie Beveridge, fireboss of the shift immediately preceding accident. He had inspected the place at 5:20 a.m. and found it in good condition. It was well timbered, having no broken timber. He had pegged Wilson that morning and had discussed the place with him.

Havelock Hulbert, pit boss. Had seen place at approximately 12:45. He did not know the time of accident. Place was fair. There had been a previous slide which made it impossible to timber properly the g.b. He added that the roof was sufficiently timbered at the face and gave a detailed description of the timber back from the face. The general condition of the place was good.

He had a conversation with Wilson at the time of his visit and at that time had not noted any signs of a squeeze although he had been alert to any dangerous noises.

Slugg, he added, had been found about five feet above the high side of the first crosscut.

Steve Ondros refused to give evidence due to the union having withdrawn its brief.

The jury retired and about half and hour later returned with a verdict that the two deceased miners had come to their deaths by a slide of rock at 168 pillar, No. 1 level, No. 2 seam, and that there was no blame attached to anyone. It recommended that as far as practicable the nearest crosscut to the face be kept open as a measure of safety.

Alex McDowell—Missing

Squadron Leader Alex McDowell, 28, of the Royal Air Force and son Mr. and Mrs. Sam McDowell, manager of the Alberta Government Telephones in Blairmore, is missing after recent air operations against the enemy, according to word received by Mr. McDowell.

Alex attended high school in Blairmore and after finishing school became a member of the Safeway's store staff in Blairmore, and in 1937 proceeded to England where he enlisted in the Royal Air Force.

His rise was rapid there, and for a while acted as an instructor and three times returned to Canada for instructional purposes. Last March he visited his father and brothers in Blairmore returning to England shortly thereafter. In a recent letter to his father he stated he was about to be promoted to flight commander. His wife the former Agnes Hutton, of Bellevue, and two-year-old daughter are at the present time residing in Blairmore at the home of Mr. McDowell.

Arrives Overseas

A cable was received Wednesday morning by Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Kettyls from their son P/O Ross informing them of his safe arrival in Britain.

Miners Union Wants New Inquest

In a statement to the Lethbridge Herald and published in the Oct. 25 issue, T. A. McCloy, representative of the U.M.W.A., District 18, reveals that a new inquest has been demanded into the deaths of Robert Wilson and Fred Slugg.

He stated he had been prevented from cross-examining a witness while he was giving evidence.

A protest has been sent the mines department and the attorney-general's department demanding that a new inquest take place under the direction of a capable coroner.

Missing in Action

Sgt. Pilot Charles Wright, nephew of Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Kettyls is missing in action following Oct. 20 operations. The missing youth is 22 years of age and is the son of Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Wright, of Vulcan, and formerly of Bellevue where Rev. Wright preached for several years.

Expected He Will Be Hospitalized at Least Six Months; Donations Being Received From Sympathizers

Young Jimmy Chalmers, accompanied by his mother, travelled to Toronto a few weeks ago and Jimmy is now a patient in the Sick Children's hospital where he will undergo a plastic operation to heal facial wounds.

From information obtained by the Lions' Chalmers' Fund committee the youth will be in hospital at least six months. One can readily imagine the size of the hospital bill at the end of this period. His mother has secured employment and is doing her best to help defray as much of the expense as possible but even her noble effort will leave a fairly large portion of the hospital bill unpaid.

At the Lions supper-meeting on Monday evening the Fund chairman reported that ticket sales were fairly steady and to prove his point distributed a book of tickets to each Lion with the caution of either selling the book within two weeks or having a fire spot handy at the next regular Lions meeting. The Miss Canadas were on the job last pay Saturday and their ticket sales were quite good.

It was revealed on Tuesday morning that sufficient money had been raised to pay the cost of the playhouse and the few miscellaneous expenses connected with the campaign and still leave a little surplus. This surplus however is not nearly sufficient to take care of hospital expenses and the public will be urged to give greater support.

One comforting feature of the campaign has been the several donations received by the committee. Lion Secretary John Van Marston has received four donations, two of which were recorded in last week's issue. The second two donations came from a Coleman party for $2.00 and a group named "The Butternuts" from Sylvan lake for $1.00.

Statement Re Coal Dust Nuisance

On Wednesday the coal dust from International tipple was so bad that numerous complaints were brought to the mayor's office concerning the dust and the inactivity of the council regarding previous complaints.

In fairness to the council it is only right to state that coal dust complaints have been dealt with at various meetings. It so happened that our federal member, E. G. Hansell, and the provincial member, E. O. Duke, were in town at the same time and were of the opinion that the citizens were justified in their complaints.

They promised to use their influence in taking the complaints to the proper department and so endeavor to rid the town of the coal dust nuisance.

Merchants have difficulty securing merchandise and in addition suffer greatly from spoilage of goods by coal dust. The town, which might be one of the nicest in the province, is made so objectionable and unpleasant that travellers and visitors remain only briefly.

The Future Of Agriculture

ANY PLANS FOR POST-WAR reconstruction and rehabilitation, both as applied to Canada and to the world at large, are of vital interest to those who live in the Western Provinces. The prosperity of the farmers of Western Canada always depends on general economic conditions in Canada, as well as on the demand in the world markets for grain and other agricultural products. At the present time the farmers are playing a most important part in the winning of the war. Agricultural products from the Prairies are helping to feed Canada's armed forces and her civilian population. In addition, great quantities of Canadian foodstuffs are being shipped to Britain and to the other United Nations which require it. There is also in storage great supplies of Western Canadian wheat which will be available for the starving people of the Occupied Countries when they are liberated. The vital need for farm products in wartime leaves no doubt as to the place of agriculture in Canada at present, but those concerned with this industry have much interest in what may be in store for it in the post-war years.

Chief Resource Is Agriculture

Dr. L. E. Kirk, dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of Saskatchewan, in a recent address on "Reconstruction and Rehabilitation," pointed out some interesting facts concerning these problems, as related to Western Canada. "The West," Dr. Kirk said, "is deeply concerned, not only with the outcome of the war, but with the international relations which will obtain after peace is established. Indeed, the future of this country rests mainly on a secure peace, the restoration of international trade and a generous policy of international co-operation after the war." While there is now some industrial development in the West and there are possibilities for further utilization of water-power, minerals and other natural resources, Dr. Kirk pointed out that in all three Prairie Provinces the agricultural resources greatly exceed all the other resources combined. There appears to be no doubt but that this should be a great food-producing area, but Dr. Kirk raised the question of markets and stated that without a great improvement in the standard of living in our own and other countries, great co-operation between nations, and guarantees for future peace, there is little hope for any great improvement in farming conditions here after the war.

Many Problems Are Expected

It is apparent that agriculture will share fully with other groups in having many difficult problems with which to deal after the war, and it is felt that in this, as in all other problems, some preparations should be made to meet the difficulties which will arise. The Canadian Federation of Agriculture has recently made a number of recommendations to the agricultural sub-committee of the parliamentary committee on post-war reconstruction. These recommendations advised, among other things, a "long-term national planning through a comprehensive marketing and production program for agriculture." It was further stated that "unless we are much better prepared to meet the dislocations of the post-war years than we were after the First Great War, a disastrous collapse in our agriculture is possible." The farmers of Western Canada withstood the trying conditions of drought and depression during the "thirties," and they are now carrying on steadfastly in spite of labour shortages and wartime restrictions, which present many difficulties. It is to be sincerely hoped that post-war conditions both here and abroad will be such as to provide sound prosperity for this great food-producing area of our Dominion.

Eye Disease

Research Into The Cause Of Blindness And Other Problems

Oxford University, London, is to create a Department of Ophthalmology whose activities will include research into the causes of blindness and into the problems of eye disease, teaching, and the treatment of patients. Lord Nuffield has already presented £25,000 ($111,000) for the promotion of research in this field. The newly formed University Ophthalmological Research Endowment Committee is aiming at raising a further £250,000 ($1,110,000) to build, equip and endow research laboratories at Oxford.

Mobile Baths

Being Used In The Industrial Centres Of Great Britain

Mobile baths are being used in some industrial centres in Great Britain where war movements of population have resulted in an inadequate number of baths. There are fifteen mobile bathrooms operating throughout the country, able to supply, free of charge and with towels and soap included, up to 2,000 baths a week.

To produce 1,000,000 pounds of war goods daily, an ordnance plant must haul in and out 18,000,000 pounds of material, enough to fill 500 freight cars.

ALL-BRAN TAUGHT ME SOMETHING ABOUT CONSTIPATION

When you're busy as most of us are, working to help win the war, it's doubly important to know what ALL-BRAN can do to relieve the cause of constipation due to the lack of the right amount of "bulk" in the diet. It's a "better way" than forcing yourself to take purgatives that offer only temporary relief.

Eat ALL-BRAN every morning. That's the simple means that thousands use to keep regular... NATURALLY! Enjoy it as a cereal or in muffins... drink plenty of water... and see what it does for you! Buy ALL-BRAN at your grocer's, sold in two convenient sizes. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

UNDERGROUND FACTORY

Our Boys And Girls On Active Service

(By Ottawa Observer)

A COMBINED Services campaign (Army, Navy and Air Force) is at present being carried on throughout Canada to hasten the enlistment of another 65,000 more service women to release men for combat duty. The war is just getting into stride as far as the Canadian armed services are concerned.

One of the best known fellows in the Canadian Navy, Nicholas John Syvick, of Regina and Victoria, who has done so much to build up morale of the navy lads, has been promoted to Warrant Master-At-Arms. He was educated in Regina, a graduate of St. Mary's Separate School.

Flying Officer Bitesy Grant, who hails from Watrous, Sask., got in the news lately by "seeing" Paris, loitering around an airfield in the dark there until he was able to shoot down a Dornier 217, chasing the flaming ship downwards. He has a dad who is also in air force blue, Squadron Leader W. W. Grant, a signals expert in Ottawa. Bitesy says he never expected to see the Eiffel Tower under such circumstances. As a train huster he has 12 engines to his credit.

A group of Women's district advisors have been appointed to Canadian Naval commands, and boy, won't the white pants boys get more delicious foods now. Heading the group is Paymaster L. A. Commander Doris Taylor of Winnipeg, Man., as chief dietitian. She joined the Wrens in England in 1941, and is a graduate in Household and Social Science.

Military District No. 12, H.Q. at Regina has organized all out to put the Fifth Victory Loan over among the personnel of that district. They're aiming high, to beat the record of last year when soldiers, including CWAC's bought nearly half a million in bonds.

Officers trained through the Royal Canadian Navy's new "lower deck" system of advancement are now being graduated weekly in groups numbering up to 25. Under this system every prospective officer must enter the lower deck as an ordinary seaman and get his experience for a full year before emerging as a sub-lieutenant.

Among the men serving on the R.C.A.F., flying boat units from a Canadian base in station, are many private lads, some of whom now have well earned decorations. A distinguished flying "Medal" was recently won by Corporal Harold Knelsen, second engineer, of Bladworth, Sask., who on a trip was first to sight the enemy home in the Pacific. He was engaged. Another D.F.M. went to Sergeant William Bedwell, first engineer, who came in at Marchville, Sask. He has spent a year and a half on anti-submarine patrol work.

R.C.A.F. fighter pilots still stand by within a few dozen miles of Kiska and wonder, "Where do we go from here?" But it wasn't always like that, if you can remember back a few months before the Japs turned tail and fled. Weather or no weather, the Canucks gave the rising sun boys no rest whenever the foe lifted. For instance the records show that it lifted on July 26 last, and the boys went on three missions, scoring seven direct hits on Jap fighter strips. In this group enjoying the fun was Flying Officer A. C. Fanning of Dominion City, Manitoba.

MET HIS MATCH

A barrister became somewhat acrimonious in his cross-examination, but the little woman in the witness-box remained calm.

Eventually counsel said: "You say you had no education, but you answered my questions smartly enough." The witness replied: "You don't have to be a scholar to answer silly questions."

Bolzano, the Italian gateway to the Brenner Pass, was Austrian until the close of the First Great War, and most of its 35,000 residents still speak German.

Health LEAGUE OF CANADA presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS

Since September, 1929, tuberculosis has caused 24,000 deaths in Canada and 75,000 persons developed the disease, Dr. G. J. Wherrett, executive secretary of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association, reported at the association's annual meeting in Toronto. Even if the present war lasted considerably longer, it was doubtful if the Canadian casualties would equal those caused by tuberculosis in the period mentioned, Dr. Wherrett declared.

Calling for an intensified campaign against tuberculosis, Doctor Wherrett said Canada was short 6,650 sanatorium beds for white patients and 1,390 beds for Indians. He said fluorographic surveys of the population would become general in all the Provinces as soon as the equipment and personnel were available. Doctor Wherrett suggested a five-year program against tuberculosis, and intensive educational work on a national scale.

Mortality rates for 1942, reported at the meeting, showed that Saskatchewan resumed first place with a combined white and Indian rate of 28.1 per 100,000 of population, with Ontario a close second, with a rate of 28.9. In the preceding year Ontario nosed Saskatchewan out of a lead held for many years.

The Saskatchewan Anti-Tuberculosis League this summer conducted a survey of the population of Saskatoon (43,000), in which 30,000 persons were photographed. Investigators discovered 28 open cases of tuberculosis, of which two were active spreaders. Ten thousand persons failed to take advantage of the free survey.

SMILE AWHILE

Mr. Softee: This is my photograph, with my two French poodles. You recognize me?"
Miss Cam: "I think so. You are the one with the hat on, are you not?"

Ethel—Please, can you tell me the time?

Willie—I don't know exactly, but I know it isn't four o'clock yet!"
"Are you sure?"
"Quite. 'Cause I have to be home by four, and I'm not home yet."

Assistant—For value there is nothing on the market to compare with this at the price.

Customer—And how much is it?

Assistant—One moment, madam. I'll ask the manager.

He sat mooning over his cup of coffee and making sheep's eyes at the pretty waitress until she was fed up.

"Is there anything else you would like, sir?" she asked distantly, as a hint that he could move on.
"Just a soft word," he replied.
"Putty!" replied the waitress as she whisked the cup off the table and tripped away.

Young Husband—I suppose you'll threaten to go home to mother. Wife—I'll do nothing so foolish, after this? I'm going to invite her here.

"I hear your husband is a golf enthusiast, Bridget."
"Shure, he is ma'am."
"Has he done any good work on the links lately?"
"Shure, he has. Why he cut the grass yesterday."

Jack—That lawyer chap you told me of is not a man of his word.
Mac—Why, what's happened?
Jack—Well he told me that I could talk freely to him, and this morning he sent in his account.

Vicar's Wife—Oh, Thomas, in trouble again? Why don't you renounce the devil!

Thomas—My dear aunt, I don't want to fall out with him. I may have to spend a lot of time with him one day.

Wife was vigorously powdering her face before going out.

Hubby—Why do you go to all that trouble?

Wife—Modesty, my dear. Hubby—Modesty?

Wife—Yes. I've no desire to shine in public.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Accommodation for New Mine Workers

Farm labor is being encouraged by the federal government to go into the coal mines during their off season and aid the production of coal.

In all Pass towns the shortage of housing accommodation is fairly acute, very few homes being vacant. When these farm workers come to the Pass many will no doubt desire that they be given homes to accommodate their families.

We read in the press this week where the federal government will build another of their expensive prisoner-of-war camps in eastern Canada near valuable timberlands, the prisoners to aid in cutting vitally needed lumber. If they can build these war camps to aid the lumber industry, why can't federal authorities come to the Pass and make arrangements for building a little townsite centrally located in the Pass for new mine labor, trucks each morning to be available to transport the men to the various mines? Coal production certainly ranks in equal importance with lumber.

Will Try for Loan Quota Within Week

Coleman's Victory Loan committee has set itself the task of raising its $102,000 quota by this week end or very early next week. It is a hard assignment, but certainly not an impossible one. Local citizens have taken an entirely different viewpoint on bonds and now wish to accumulate as many as possible. If all prospective Fifth Victory Loan purchasers will make it a point of buying their bonds within the next two or three days there is no doubt but that the local loan committee will meet its objective. Buy from the canvassers, the bank or Loan Headquarters.

Coleman Union Cemetery

The union cemetery is fast filling up and within a short period of time the council will have to give the matter of a new cemetery its serious consideration. It has been suggested that the ground lying immediately north of the present cemetery be fenced in and used. This is a good suggestion and will probably be adopted. Another matter that should be considered, however, is a good roadway into the new cemetery. The present road leading off Sixth street leaves much to be desired. In the first place it is too steep; secondly, winter frosts make it dangerous; thirdly, heavy snows make it almost impossible to climb at times, and fourthly, the spring thaws tend to cut it up and make it rough. A new road winding along Sixth street, up past Boulton's and thence to the new cemetery would be ideal. It would lack steep hills and the snow plow would be easily able to keep it clear in winter. It would be a good idea to classify this improvement under the post-war reconstruction projects.

Pass Youth Missing

As the Allies continue to send larger and larger fleets of aircraft over European skies to wreak destruction and devastation on the enemy, we become more and more accustomed to see familiar names in the casualty lists. This week it is that of Sqdn. Leader Alex. McDowell. Alex. is a Pass youth and well known throughout the Pass towns. He is a veteran of air raids and knew the danger he daily faced. He went on these raids, however, leading his squadron right into the teeth of German defences, knowing full well a job had to be done. He has done his job well. It is the hope of all that he brought his damaged plane down safely and that he is physically well. It is when we know the youths well that the war strikes us most and it is then that we want to do our utmost to get this war over with and get these boys home safely. Those on the home front can do their part to get the boys home quickly and safely by working and buying Victory Bonds.

Investigate Results of Long Holiday

Forms surveying the results of the extended holiday for Alberta schools are now out to various centres of the Province, it has been announced by Dr. G. Fred McNally, Deputy Minister of Education. We want to determine as accurately as possible whether or not any benefit was secured from pupils who would otherwise have been going to school, he stated.

Survey form consists of five sections. Applying to boys and girls between the ages of 13 and 16, it asks how many were engaged in farm work and in gainful employment other than farming during period September 1st to October 10th. From the forms returned to the Department of Education it will be decided whether to set the holiday next year during August and September or, if it is not worthwhile, to go back to the usual months of July and August.

Civilian Flying

Only the United States and Russia have allowed their civilians to fly in wartime, other belligerents grounded their amateurs as soon as war was declared.

sure—use tins and small cartons.
5. Don't send matches.
6. Don't send fresh food of any kind.

7. Remember articles or foods with strong odors, e.g. soap, bulk coffee, etc., spoil other foods unless carefully packaged.
Cookies, cakes and candies that keep well are always appreciated, also sweetened chocolate drink preparations or the new prepared coffee. Make and send candy in a solid block—pour into carton or tin container lined with wax paper. Cut cookies the size of carton or baking powder tin, then pack with wax or tissue paper between each. Bake fruit, banana, peanut butter breads and fruit cakes in baking powder or coffee tins lined with wax paper and send in the tin.

Girl Guide Notes

Our fall season is well underway, and work has started in all sections. The most interesting just now seems to be the time we are devoting to our latest "war effort". We bought a lovely doll and plan to dress it and raffle it sometime in December. The money so raised will be spent in making up parcels to be sent to England.

We were thrilled a couple of weeks ago to receive a letter from the Matron in charge of the American nursery just outside London. It was to this nursery that the Evacuee Committee sent the clothing and other material sent in our two previous parcels. To add to the interest of letter the Matron enclosed three snaps of the children—thirty six children between the ages of two and five years. Now we are most anxious to send some more material, and the work on the doll is progressing rapidly.

Watch for our doll, wont you? We feel sure you will support our effort and appreciate very much anything done to help us.

We are looking forward to a visit from our provincial commissioner, Mrs. Parlee, this week. Although it is not an official visit, we all hope to meet her, and trust we will compare favorably with other companies of the province.

School Deadline Now Closed

In response to the notice contained in last week's issue regarding the Nov. 30 deadline for young children entering school for the first time, Principal Hoyle received four new youngsters who would have been six years before expiry of the deadline in addition he had to accommodate two other youngsters who had just reached school age and had just newly arrived in town with their parents.

The six new students are all that can be handled this term in the primary grade unless of course there are newcomers who can get under the Sept. regulation deadline.

Parcels for Overseas

Here are some suggestions from V. Richards McDonald for those boxes for overseas. The limit is 11 pounds for those in the services and 5 pounds for civilians. Postage is 12c a pound. Make sure you address your parcels for those in the service in care of their unit, otherwise if sent to an outside address they may have to pay duty on it. Have the return address on the outside of the parcel and put a slip of paper inside containing the sending and return addresses. Suitable cardboard boxes and gummed tape can be bought for the purpose as well as heavy wrapping and cord. Articles inside the box may be attractively wrapped in Christmas paper, etc. to add a personal touch.

Now for some "do's" and "don'ts"—

1. Remember the boys are not hungry—the foods you send them should be extras or little luxuries. However for prisoners of war, do consider the calorie and vitamin content.
2. Buy small packages of things—for variety's sake.
3. Send things they can eat with their fingers.
4. Don't send anything in glass containers as they'll break for

Elks And Lions Sponsor Victory Loan Banners

Through the courtesy of Coleman Elks and Lions clubs the local Victory Loan publicity committee has at its disposal two very fine banners.

The Elks banner was hung across main street last week and was almost ripped apart by heavy winds. It has now been placed above the Coleman Hardware store and carries its message as forcibly as ever. It tells of Coleman's $102,000 quota and encourages all to buy war bonds.

The Lions banner hangs majestically from the second storey balcony of the Coleman hotel and urges all to "Speed the Victory" by buying bonds.

The printing is the handiwork of Janostak, who has had former experience in work of this kind, and is quite a skilled painter.

Retiring Mining Man Honored At Dinner

Toastmaster for the evening was General Superintendent D. B. Young, who, in proposing a toast

LOOKING BACKWARD

Mr. Carlyle, in replying to the toast, gave a brief review of his biography, from his birth on an Ontario farm, on through his school and college days in eastern Canada, and through his association with the Hillcrest-Mohawk Collieries to Oct. 1, 1943, which he declared to be the first day in his life on which he had "no boss". In his reference to his earlier associations with the mining company, he commended very highly the constructive work carried out in turn by J. Cardie, H. Macdonald, J. MacIntyre and H. Clarke, each of whom had at one time been mine manager of the collieries. In closing he expressed faith in those who were now left in charge of the affairs of the mining enterprise and expressed his sincere appreciation for the gift presented to him by Mr. Young on behalf of the gathering.

Regret at the departure of the man who had always been more than just the managing director but a sincere and understanding friend as well, was felt by Jack Frommenger, pit boss, and George Youngberg, master mechanic and longest term employee both of whose work brought them in close association with Mr. Carlyle throughout the years.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK

F. J. Harquail, member of the board of directors, expressed deep satisfaction with the present position of the collieries, asserting that it had been ably managed and that the outlook was good. Popular with the entire personnel of the mines, Mr. Harquail was cheered when he asserted that the company would follow a policy of expansion design to help obviate slack time after the war. He expressed the view that Hillcrest and Maple Leaf should one day become communities as important as any others in the Crow's Nest Pass.

The evening was highlighted by vocal selections by Ike Hutton and the Mesdames A. MacDowell, W. Harvey and W. Barclay, W. Harvey accompanying on the piano.

Reg. Jones, who had charge of arrangements for the enjoyable affair, replied to a toast and after the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the King", the banquet was concluded.

LAC Alfred Jones Sees Crow and International Mine in C.P. Paper Published in London

In a letter to his parents this week LAC Alfred Jones tells of getting quite a surprise the other week when he picked up the Canadian Press paper published in London for the Canadian forces in Britain. Staring at him from one page was the familiar sight of Crows Nest Mountain and International mine tipple. Alfred goes on to say:

I got the surprise of my life this morning. I was looking through the Canadian Press News and there staring at me from the fifth page was the International mine with Crows Nest Mountain in the background. Underneath it said "Even a coal mine can look good these days, Coleman, Alta." Boy they were not kidding either. That is the kind of picture I like to see. It is a fairly recent picture too, because it had the new wet washers, new tipple and all the other recent improvements in it. The pictures must have been taken on infra-red film because the picture was very clear, even though there must have been a great deal of coal dust in the air. The Crow stood out as clear as a bell."

Mrs. J. Houghton returned home this week from a holiday spent at Natal where she was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. P. J. Hamon.

NATIONAL

A WORD OF CAUTION

TO MEN OF MILITARY AGE AND TO THEIR EMPLOYERS

National Selective Service Civilian Regulations authorize the Minister of Labour to require that male employees furnish their employers with evidence that they have not failed to comply with National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations (i.e., the Military Call-Up).

It is intended that an order will be issued shortly, requiring employers to carry out the necessary check on their male employees, and to report any men who do not produce the required evidence of compliance.

The check up will cover every male employee who has reached the age of 18 years and six months and has not reached his 38th birthday. The man will have to show evidence in one of the following forms:—

- (a) A man discharged from the Armed Forces following service during the present war should have his discharge certificate. A discharged man who has not a certificate should apply for one in the following manner:—
Army—District Officer Commanding, Military District in which discharge took place.
Air—Records Office, R.C.A.F. Headquarters, No. 5 Temporary Building, Ottawa, Ont.
Navy—Secretary of Naval Board, Ottawa, Ont.
- (b) A man who has responded to a direction from a Registrar of a Divisional Mobilization Board, to report for medical examination under Mobilization Regulations, should have either a certificate of unfitness or an order for postponement of military training from the Divisional Registrar. (A man entitled to either document who has lost his copies should immediately apply to the Divisional Registrar who issued the original, for a duplicate.)
- (c) A man who has been rejected on application for voluntary enlistment in the Army since the beginning of the war, should have a certificate showing that he was rejected through medical unfitness. (If a man entitled to such a certificate does not possess it, he should apply to the District Military Headquarters of the District in which he applied for enlistment, in order to procure the necessary form.)
- (d) A man in the designated classes who has not reached his 38th birthday, who was married as at July 15th, 1940, or who, having been married before that date, is a widower with children, must be prepared to furnish evidence, such as a marriage certificate or birth certificate of a child, to show that he was married before July 15th, 1940, and that he is now either married or is a widower with children.
- (e) A man who has reported for enrolment in the Army under an Order—Military Training issued under the Mobilization Regulations and who has been rejected should have a certificate showing he was rejected through medical unfitness. If a man entitled to such certificate does not possess it, he should apply to the District Officer Commanding the Military District in which he was rejected.
- (f) (i) A man who is not subject to the Mobilization Regulations because he is an enemy alien who has not made application for naturalization may obtain a certificate from a registrar of his Divisional Mobilization Board indicating that the Mobilization Regulations do not apply to him and such certificates must be obtained by all such enemy aliens:
(ii) A man who is an alien and neither a national of Belgium, Czechoslovakia, The Netherlands, Norway, Poland, the United States nor Yugoslavia and has not applied for naturalization may be relieved of his duty under Mobilization Regulations, but he gives up his right to future Canadian citizenship after the war; where such men have applied for such relief and been granted such status, certificates will be issued by registrars in appropriate cases.

This caution is issued to facilitate compliance with the order which is proposed. A reasonable interval will be allowed to permit men to provide themselves with whatever document, as referred to above, they may be entitled to hold.

Employers are requested to give notice of this proposal to their male employees, to facilitate the operation of the order when issued.

Social Credit Members Hold Meetings

Old Line Parties Discredited States Hansell; Coldwell Being Built up.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Fed Antrobus who introduced the speakers of the evening Mr. E. G. Hansell, M.P. for this constituency and Mr. E. O. Duke, M.L.A.

Mr. Hansell, the first speaker took as his theme an appraisal of the political situation in Canada. "We need an effective democracy," the speaker declared, "Democracy in Canada ends in the ballot box in many instances. When election time comes the voter will have to choose between the old line parties, the C.C.F., the Progressive Labour party and the Social Credit party." The speaker believed that the old parties have come to be discredited in the opinion of the Canadian elector. This he substantiated by pointing to the result of the recent elections in Ontario where the Liberal party was defeated and the Conservatives, although returned to power, have not a clear majority. Prime Minister King was designated as the most astute politician in Canada, —a greater party, than a national leader.

Turning to the C.C.F. Mr. Hansell stated that he believed the Leader of that party, Mr. Coldwell, to be a perfectly safe man to put in Ottawa, so far as the 'Big Shots' are concerned. In his attitude toward Canada's contribution to the war, the speaker declared, Mr. Coldwell had been changeable and inconsistent. In recent months there had been a distinct 'Build up' for Mr. Coldwell by the C.C.F. and by a number of big publications; such interests will not "Build up" one whom they cannot control," Mr. Hansell declared.

If a choice had to be made between Mr. Coldwell and Mr. Tim Buck, the speaker considered the latter to be much the better choice.

However, the "Social Credit philosophy offers more than that offered by Mr. Buck, and at the same time retains Canadian freedom; it offers an effective democracy."

The second speaker, Mr. E. O. Duke, M.L.A., spoke briefly of the method by which powerful financial interests ever seek to divide that they may rule the people. He paid a sincere tribute to the late Premier Aberhart and expressed his confidence in his present leader (Premier Manning) as "a clean, honest and God-fearing young man."

After giving ample time for questions from the gathering, the meeting was closed by singing the National Anthem.

Curling Club to be Active This Year

Club Held Meeting Last Week; Will Have Two Sheets Ice

Coleman Curling Club held a meeting on Wednesday evening and after some discussion decided to again be active this winter and endeavor to get as many rinks as possible.

The roof problem was given much discussion but appears at this stage of the game that nothing can be done about it this year. It was decided to use only the two centre sheets of ice and to set the fee at $5 per member.

A. A. Fraser, vice-president of the Sports' Association, was present and answered a number of questions. Since Blairmore Curling club's policy is to give 10% of receipts to the Association, it was decided to adopt that policy here for this winter at least.

Persons desirous of curling should now get busy and get their rinks together.

FARMERS AND FARM WORKERS

If Your Farm Work has Slackened for the Winter, You Are Needed Elsewhere in Essential Employment

Highly essential work—very important in Canada's war effort and for the welfare of the Nation—is threatened with shortages of workers. One of the few sources of men available for other high priority jobs is those men on the farm who will not be needed at home during the Fall and Winter. Heavy needs must be met in many lines—producing vitally essential forest products; in base metal and coal mining, in food processing, in railway track maintenance. If you live on a farm and are not needed at home during the Fall and Winter, you are urged to answer this national appeal.

Farmers engaged in essential work during the off season will be allowed to return home when needed. Also, those on postponement under Mobilization Regulations will continue on postponement while in approved essential work during the slack season on the farm.

Please answer this vital call NOW.

Salesmen To Bend Every Effort To Get Quota By Week-End If Possible; Buy Bonds From Salesmen, Bank or Loan Headquarters.

Goal Can Be Reached If All Citizens Desiring To Purchase Bonds Will Do So Now; Help Put Coleman Over The Top; Don't Wait; Buy To-Day.

Victory Loan unit organizer, Frank Aboussafy, and his salesmen are making a determined bid this week to secure Coleman's $102,000 quota by this week end or early next week.

During the past few evenings the salesmen have been putting in half an hour to an hour more per evening than they did the first week in an effort to cover as many houses as possible. Sales are remaining quite steady. However, with this sudden spurt by the entire organization sales will no doubt take a jump, and if the quota can be reached within the next few days everyone will be happy, especially the salesmen who have been on the job every night without rest.

There is sufficient money on deposit in the bank to put the local quota over the top in a matter of minutes. To those people having money laying idle in the bank it is only good business to invest it in bonds and so double their interest, and at the same time freeing it, so that the Canadian government will be given the financial backing to get on with this war and get it over with in the shortest possible time.

If a salesman has not yet called on you, please do not wait any longer. Take your subscription to the bank or to Victory Loan headquarters on main street, where it will be accepted.

Let's get our quota as soon as possible. Won't you help us?

Accommodation Urgently Needed For Mine Workers

Farm Labor Expected to be Diverted to Mines; Persons Having or Knowing of Accommodation Are Asked to Report Same to Company Offices.

An urgent appeal is contained in the coal companies' advertisement this week asking local residents having housing accommodation, or knowing where accommodation can be secured, to report same at the companies' offices.

Readers may have noticed in the press government advertisements urging farm labor to return to the mines during the off season on the farms. It is expected that some of this labor will arrive here shortly, several workers already having arrived.

The local housing problem is recognized as being fairly acute. However, there is still some accommodation and the companies would be very pleased if persons willing to accommodate these workers with room and board, or room only, would leave their names at the offices. See advt. on page 1.

Dear Friends: A few lines to let you know that I received another 300 cigs. I wish to say thanks a million. They are much appreciated over here. Things are very quiet. I meet a few Coleman boys every time I go to the Beaver club in London—John Kanik.

Dear Comrades: Just a few lines to thank you for your kind gift of good Canadian cigarettes. Just missed seeing Bob Emmerson by a few hours the other day. ## Sugar Beet Production

Irrigation Areas In Southern Alberta Suited To This Industry

Sugar beet production is particularly suited to Southern Alberta's irrigated areas. In no other part of Canada can the industry be so efficiently conducted. If it can be further mechanized so that labor costs will be brought down, it is within the realm of possibility that Southern Alberta may be able to supply the bulk of Canada's sugar needs in the years to come.

Alberta is short of industries and it seems to be well worth while to encourage the development of such an industry as sugar manufacturing.

Not only does it provide a good market for a specialty farm crop and bring excellent returns to the producer, but it also gives employment to a considerable number of people in the operation of the sugar factories.—Calgary Herald.

Have Great Future

U.S. Scientists Finding Dozens Of New Uses For Feathers

A small, ambitious group of U.S. government scientists believes that the future belongs to the feather.

Feathers—100 per cent. protein—are considered on the basis of experimentation to be excellent material for plastics. The Federal Feather Committee, headed by H. L. Shroder of the Department of Agriculture, is convinced these plastics may assume myriad forms from surgical sutures to bomber noses and from lamp bases to thread for textiles. Or by a simpler process feathers may be compressed into fibrous board for insulation and soundproofing. In primitive form feathers are already doing war duty in camouflage (details a military secret) and as the warm stuffing for thousands of infantrymen's sleeping bags and aviators' jackets.

Keeps Up Brave Front

Luxury Hotel In London Doing Its Best With Menus

A Canadian officer spending a recent week-end leave in London dined at one of the famous luxury hotels, frequented in happier days by cosmopolitan millionaires. He reports that, all things considered, the institution is keeping up a brave front, but the little refinements of peace-time are represented by symbols instead of substance.

The menus, for example, are still beautifully printed, but the typography does not conceal a shortage of food and a lack of variety of which the hotel would once have been ashamed. Nor does the French into which the menus are still translated conceal the fact that the patrons are now offered more piebald dishes than phoebant caviar.

On the day of our correspondent's dinner, the strain of translation had broken down the maitre d'hotel. He had faithfully found French equivalents for all the dishes until he came to the sweet. That was frankly listed as "Le bread-and-butter pudding."

Golden text: Beware, I pray thee, and drink no wine nor strong drink. Judges 13:4.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 4.

Explanations and Comments The Sin of Nadab and Abihu, Leviticus 10:1, 2. And: This little word with which the story begins was to indicate that Nadab and Abihu offered "strange fire" immediately after the fire from Jehovah had consumed the appointed sacrifice where all had been done "as the Lord commanded," chapter 8. Aaron and his two sons had been consecrated as priests just a week earlier, and on this first occasion when the sons discharge their priestly function they fail to follow the prescribed regulations.

From the direction to avoid strong drink given in this connection, verses 8-11, it may be assumed that they erred because intoxicated. They lighted the incense with "strange fire," not from the burning coals on the brazen altar as was the command. The speakers' Commentary suggests that as they perished not within the tabernacle but in front of it, they may have been making an ostentatious and irreverent display of their ministrations to accompany the shouts of the people.

The offense for which they were immediately visited with outward punishment was thus a flagrant outrage on the solemn order of the divine service, while the cause of their offense was their use of strong drink.

The instant death that befell these young men may seem to us a great punishment for a slight sin, but we must not forget how important were the forms at this stage of the people's religion, and if the priests had set the example of contempt therefor and gone unpunished, what would not the people have done? The greater their privilege, the nearer they were to God in his worship, the greater their responsibility, the graver their sin.

Aaron warned to abstain from Alcohol! Drink, Leviticus 10:8-11. These verses in Moffatt's translation read: When you or your sons enter into the Fraying Tent, never drink wine or liquor, lest you die: this is to be a standing rule from generation to generation, that you may distinguish what is sacred and what is profane, and that you may teach the Israelites all the rules that the Eternal has given them by Moses.

Our chapter ends with these words: Aaron and his sons did all the things which the Lord commanded.

Admiralty Ruling

Petty Officer Wins The Right To Wear A Monocle

Because a Royal Navy non-commissioned officer insisted on wearing his monocle aboard ship the Admiralty had to write a new section to the Navy's general fleet orders.

The sailor who boldly declared that he had worn a monocle for four years before the war and did not intend to relinquish it is Chief Petty Officer Philip Morter.

His commanding officer found nothing in the books covering the situation and finally sought an official ruling. The Admiralty held that a rating may choose between spectacles and a monocle so long as it does not interfere with his efficient discharge of duties.

CHAPTER VIII.

SIR MAURICE BLAINE was at the dinner last night with an invitation from Master John Hale to accompany him to an exclusive club. There, as on the previous evening, cards were the diversion. This was an even more select gathering, with several imposing titles among the names of those to whom Jonathan was introduced, but once again Jonathan's hope of finding the killer of Denys was unrealized. How much longer, he wondered, must he keep this up?

He had more gold for Tucker when he returned to the inn—and more in the days that followed. No attempt was made to save money; over and above what might be called working capital, every penny went to add to the magnificence that was making the name of John Hale a legend.

At the end of the week, Tucker announced that the house on Pall Mall was ready for occupancy, with a full staff of servants engaged. "It is my turn now that I have a home of my own," Jonathan said to the faithful and admiring Sir Maurice, "to return the hospitality shown me by you and your friends. All of you must be my guests the first evening."

THE housewarming of Master John Hale got under way in brilliant fashion. In the polished ballroom musicians were tuning instruments already in perfect order; the kitchen servants perspired over ovens and spit. Jonathan moved among his arriving guests, greeting those he already knew, Sir Maurice Blaine at his side to present those who were still strangers.

Jonathan acknowledged an introduction to the Earl of Chelmsford, an empty-faced man in flaming silks. "Egad, Master Hale," beamed Chelmsford, "I have been looking forward to this meeting. What will it be worth to whisper in my ear the name of your tailor?"

"The name of the horse you are grooming for the race next month," laughed Jonathan.

"It's a bargain, Hale!" agreed the Earl. "Before I leave, you and I shall make an exchange of secrets."

A tall man in somber garments appeared beside the brightly hued Earl. "Good evening, Blaine," he nodded.

"Ah, your lordship!" Sir Maurice bowed. "Lord Farquhar, allow me to present our host, Master John Hale."

It was fortunate, indeed, that Lord Farquhar inclined his head once more, bowing with an elaborateness that consumed a full instant. Otherwise he would have observed the startled recognition in the eyes of Jonathan that no schooling could control. There was no mistaking that harsh face with the bony nose and grim-angled jaws. This tall man in black velvet and black silk was his lordship, with whom Jonathan had fought in the tavern at Winnet.

"I had to attend this rout," said Lord Farquhar. "They tell me, Master Hale, that you are a veritable devil at cards. I have a passion for the pastebards myself. Now that we have become acquainted it should be easy to arrange a meeting to test our respective skills."

Sir Maurice said, "His lordship is a devil with women, too, Hale, and Satan himself with the foils."

"I heard how Hale taught Shattuck a lesson," said Farquhar. "But it is cards that interest me at the moment."

JONATHAN'S deep-set eyes lifted slowly, but by now he had his features composed, although the blood was still pounding in his ears. "I shall be at your convenience at any time, my lord," he said.

The tall man did not recognize Jonathan, a circumstance that was really no wonder. There was more than periwinkle and fine clothes to create in Farquhar's mind a picture entirely different from the awkward, plainly dressed young Puritan he remembered. The week of masquerade had left its mark on Jonathan, making him appear older, tainting him with an aura of cynical sophistication.

Farquhar glanced about at the assembling crowd and suddenly brightened. "You will excuse me, gentlemen? I have just spied her Grace, the Duchess Catharine, and there is something I must whisper in her pretty ear."

JONATHAN watched the tall, arrogant figure move away, unaware that his hand had stolen to his side, feeling for the sword he had discarded for the evening. Lord Farquhar, the fellow could not escape him now. Now that Jonathan knew the name of his enemy, he could find his lordship at any hour of any day or night and call him to account for the death of Monsieur Denys.

The muted music from the ballroom swelled and settled into rhythm. Sir Maurice touched Jonathan's sleeve. "Come, Master Hale, you must not miss this. The masque about to be presented will redound to your credit as an entertainer."

"There is something I must first attend to," Jonathan withdrew his arm. "Take my place among the guests, Maurice. I shall be with you as soon as possible."

Before Blaine could protest, Jonathan had strode away. Jonathan had with his knowledge of London, would know the location of the residence of Lord Farquhar. While his lordship was occupied in the house on Pall Mall, Tucker and Jonathan could steal out, go to the Farquhar home and, by whatever means necessary, search the place. If they found Anne Jamieson, they would take her away, then Jonathan could return here to accomplish the overdue reckoning with Farquhar.

THE search for his elusive servant brought Jonathan at length to the crowded ballroom. Perhaps if he remained still for a few minutes his man would put in an appearance. He had told the other servants to inform Tucker that the master required him.

The walls of the ballroom were lined with spectators watching the entertainment progressing in the centre of the floor. Sir Maurice had engaged a group of mimmers to put on a pageant interspersed with music, dancing and song. The program was too near its end, Jonathan thought, to grasp the meanings of gestures and pantomime, but he eyed the posturing masked figures with interest nevertheless.

Among the players was a girl in a white mask and white and blue silks, with reddish-brown hair—she so resembled Anne in her actions that Jonathan was tempted to believe—

A blare of music broke the tableau that concluded the spectacle. Sir Maurice Blaine, clapping vigorously, beamed upon Jonathan. "How did you like it, Hale?"

Jonathan smiled—that girl with the red hair—she had been looking directly at Jonathan. Lord Farquhar, pushing through the crowd, slapped young Blaine on the back. "Where did you pick up those players, Sir Maurice?" he inquired. "There are some fine-looking wenches in that outfit."

The sight of Farquhar reminded Jonathan that he was wasting valuable time. He edged away, quitting the ballroom as unobtrusively as possible, and hurried toward the stairway. He could not be delayed longer by this fruitless search for Tucker. He would go to his room, strap on his father's sword and steal out of the house alone and unseen. Without Tucker, he would reach Farquhar's residence less soon, perhaps, but he would find the place nevertheless.

He stopped abruptly in the doorway of his room. The bedroom was lighted and bending over the desk under the wall-light was the dancing girl, now wearing a spangled, blue cape over her white silk dress and still concealing her features with the mask.

IS STILL STRONG

Axle airpower was lacking in Tunisia and Sicily, and Frank Gervais in Collier's says some of it is junk heaped in El Alamein, at the bottom of the Mediterranean, but the real truth of the matter is that there is still a great big Luftwaffe. However, Allied production has simply caught up with it. Therefore, Allied production must continue all-out because the Luftwaffe has not ceased to exist.

To Save Fuel

Maintain High Humidity In The Home And Be More Comfortable

A favourite summer complaint is "It's not the heat, but the humidity." In the winter, however, they become words of wisdom. By maintaining high humidity in the home, householders will be more comfortable even though temperatures are lower. On top of that, they will save many a shovelful of coal.

Even if it were not necessary to save every bit of fuel possible, health alone would indicate plenty of moisture in the air. In winter the air is dry and thirsty. It must obtain moisture from somewhere, and that somewhere is often from an individual's body and nasal passages. Doctors agree that there would be fewer colds and nose infections if humidity were higher in Canadian homes.

There are several simple things that will help to maintain higher humidity. Here are a few of them. Keep the pan in the hot air furnace, if there is one, well-filled with water. If this is not sufficient, place cans of water just inside the registers, not where they'll show, but where they will do their work effectively.

After taking a bath, leave the hot water standing in the tub until it is cold. At the same time leave the bathroom door open so that the moisture can penetrate into the other rooms.

Potted plants make good humidifiers, if they're kept well-watered. Their porous pots literally ooze moisture.

Homes heated by stoves need have no humidifying problems. Just keep a kettle of water standing on the back of the stove.

WILL MAKE GOOD

The Toronto Globe and Mail says Prime Minister Churchill assures united air forces that they shall "beat the life out of industrial Germany." Nothing extravagant in this. Didn't he assure Mussolini some time ago that his African empire would be "torn to shreds?" And wasn't it?

JUST SAWS WOOD

The woodpecker is a realist. With it every knock is a boost. If it looks under a tald of bark it is for due cause. In the spring, it excavates a tidy nest, but only in a softened tree. Even then it will hide the chips just in case predatory eyes were watching. Mostly, it says nothing—and saws wood.

No One Too Busy

To Take Care Of The Ordinary Acts Of Courtesy

A lot of people have lapsed into small lacks of courtesy and blame it all on the war, says Adelaide Kerr, writing on Common Courtesy. Too busy with war work and problems, they say, to get this or that done.

Better check up on yourself and see whether the shoe fits you. When did you last write your mother? (Your handwriting looks as good to her now as it ever did.)

How many times have you been late to dates in the past month?

There is an old axiom: The more you have to do the more you can get done.

How about using some of the time you spend feeling sorry for yourself in getting things done.

YOU MUST KNOW FUNDAMENTALS OF HOME NURSING

Making Bed With Patient

Today everyone should know a bit about home nursing for one can never tell when an emergency may arise. Particularly in wartime, a knowledge of how to care for a patient at home is absolutely necessary.

Do you know how to make a bed with your patient in it? Some patients cannot be moved out of bed and you have to know what to do. The illustration above is a guide. Full instructions how to do this are included in our 32-page booklet, along with many other necessary things in the daily care of a patient. Our booklet gives the home nurse the important do's and a few of the don'ts are also in order.

As well as the daily care of a bed patient it gives instructions how to care for a patient after an operation, a patient with a contagious disease and also how to nurse common ailments such as colds and convulsions.

Baby care is also included.

Send life in coins for your copy of "What You Should Know About Home Nursing" to Home Service Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermid Ave. E., Winnipeg, Man. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and name of booklet.

Wheat Surplus

More Wheat Has Been Sold Since The War Began

A new peak in the carry-over stocks of wheat in Canada, the United States, Australia, and Argentina was reached at the close of the crop year 1942-43, states a recent issue of the Monthly Review of the Wheat Situation. These four countries had a combined surplus of 1,575,000,000 bushels of wheat, or 157,000,000 bushels more than they held a year ago. Four years of war have witnessed a steady rise in wheat-surplus stocks in the major exporting countries. This accumulation has sometimes been attributed to loss of export markets, but this, the Review points out, is not supported by statistics. In actual fact, this group of countries has disposed of about 400,000,000 bushels more wheat in the four war years than in the four years preceding the outbreak of hostilities, taking into account both exports and domestic utilization of wheat.

Was Always Kind

Ralph Waldo Emerson Would Never Speak Harshly Of Anyone

Ralph Waldo Emerson, gentle, kind-hearted gentleman, was always reluctant to speak harshly of his fellow beings. One day at the Emerson dinner table there was some mention of a woman who was well known as an inveterate seker after celebrities. Mrs. Emerson said the woman was a snob. Emerson thought the term too harsh. His wife inquired how he would describe the lady. "I should say," replied the philosopher, speaking very slowly, "that she is a person having great sympathy with success."

DR. R. D. SINCLAIR,
Dean of The Faculty of Agriculture,
University of Alberta.

Friend of Alberta Farmers Recommends Victory Bonds to you...

DR. R. D. SINCLAIR has combined practical and academic knowledge of agriculture in a unique degree. Born on a farm near Innisfail, Alberta, he was one of the early students of the School of Agriculture at Olds, and was a member of the first class to graduate from the College of Agriculture at the University of Alberta in 1918.

After spending some time in editorial work with a well known farm magazine, Dr. Sinclair joined the staff of the Department of Animal Husbandry of the University in 1922. He obtained his Master of Science degree at Iowa State College and later went to Aberdeen, Scotland to secure his Ph.D.

Dr. Sinclair was appointed Dean of the University's Faculty of Agriculture in 1942. He is recognized as Canada's outstanding authority on swine production and is known personally to thousands of Alberta Farmers.

Dr. Sinclair urges farmers to buy Victory Bonds.

He says:

"During the past four years of war the products of Alberta farms have made a substantial contribution to the food supply of the United Nations. But the need for weapons of war as well as food is still supremely urgent; one without the other will not finish the job.

"The Fifth Canadian Victory Loan provides further opportunity to make a financial investment in the war effort. The Bonds bought now will help to hold the farm lands of Alberta for Alberta farmers and, at the same time, provide the reserve capital which can be used for improvements when victory comes.

"As one born and raised on an Alberta farm, I appeal to the farmers of the Province to buy Bonds of the new Victory Loan to the limit of their financial resources."
